Through institutional means at their disposal, they can do best answered by their members, and at the same time have the most appropriate and efficient means of imposing seeking / accepting a fair solution to those members involved the dispute.

Keywords: Regional international organizations, international dispute, the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, Organization of American States, the African Union. Arab League

ASPECTE PRIVIND CONDUITA FISCALĂ¹

Alice Cristina Maria ZDANOVSKI²

Abstract:

The present paper seeks to find common ground between the conduct of the fiscal legal report subjects, the State through its representative institutions and the taxpayer and “happiness”, or otherwise said, the “happiness” of the entire society, considered to benefit from the administration of public funds. And in order to fulfill its objective, the paper will present some aspects regarding taxation, fiscal policy, fiscal pressure, fiscal equity, the phenomenon of tax evasion, fiscal abstinence.

The present work ends by presenting two concepts viewed as important for the “happiness” of the society regarding the administration of public funds, related to the conduct of the fiscal legal report subjects, meaning: the liability of public power and the reversibility of taxes.

Keywords: fiscal behavior, taxation, fiscal policy, fiscal pressure, fiscal equity, tax evasion.

COMBATEREA CORUPȚIEI DIN JUSTIȚIE PRIN POLITICI NAȚIONALE ȘI INTERNAȚIONALE

Bogdan DAVID¹

Abstract:

Corruption in the judiciary is a concern since ancient times. In recent years the subject has come to be widely debated because it is perceived as the main obstacle to the imposition and compliance "rule of law" principle that underlies any democracy. Integrity is a requirement for magistrates as their accountability mechanism: if the state granted institutional independence and adequate status, the population appears to be a legitimate requirement on judges professionalism, competence and integrity.

Keyword: corruption, justice, integrity, prevention, control, punishment

CALIFICAREA NOILOR TIPURI DE CONFLICTE ARMATE DIN PERSPECTIVĂ JURISPRUDENȚIALĂ

David UNGUREANU¹

Abstract:

The new types of armed conflicts highlight new aspects of the application of the international humanitarian law to the new realities of classical theaters of operations in certain situations, but the applicable provisions in the field are very vague or are missing entirely. In this context, an important role relies on the international courts which frequently have cleared some aspects of the applicability of certain rules of international humanitarian law to the reality and even to qualify some conflicts as being international or non-international.

Keywords: international humanitarian law, international courts, punishment

IMPLICAȚII ALE DECLARAȚIEI DE LA PARIS PRIVIND DREPTUL MARITIM (1856) ASUPRA MODULUI DE CODIFICARE A NORMELOR DE DREPT UMANITAR INTERNAȚIONAL

Lavinia Andreea BEJAN¹

Abstract:

If the idea of regulating the behaviour of the states in conflict towards certain sensitive categories of people involved in its conduct had found forms of manifestation in the previous eras, only in the second half of the nineteenth century did these rules of behaviour begin to be widely accepted and recognized in multilateral humanitarian treaties. The polarization of the international community in this period seemed to have a somewhat smaller influence in the approach of the codification of humanitarian protection norms, which was obvious even in the manner chosen for transforming the idea of limiting the suffering into legal norms with the widest possible applicability. The model used in the regulatory technique for the humanitarian field has been the one of the Paris Declaration Respecting Maritime Law from 1856 (with improvements, of course), at least until the end of the First World War.

Keywords: international humanitarian law, maritime law, humanitarian protection, neutrality, private property.

INSERTIA EXCESIVĂ A GUVERNULUI ÎN ACTIVITATEA DE LEGIFERARE – CAUZĂ A DECLINULUI PARLAMENTARISMULUI ROMÂNESC ACTUAL

Ramona DUMINICĂ*

Abstract:

According to Romanian constitutional tradition, the legislative function represents the sovereignty of the people, concretized by the fact that the state establishes rules of general conduct and mandatory rules which can be respected, if necessary, through use of force of constraint of the people and is exercised mainly by Parliament. Nonetheless, in current Romanian society, the Government intervenes more and more by exercising the legislative function through excessive use of delegated legislation and of objective accountability. Starting from this statement, the main objective of the current article is to prove that we are witnessing to the decline of Parliament as the sole lawmaking body, decline caused by its constant submission to the executive branch, among other things, given that the Government took on the supplementary duty of lawmaking these last few years.

Keywords: parliamentary decline, legislative function, delegated legislation, governmental objective accountability, legislative supplementary duty.

STATUTUL PRIZONIERILOR DE RĂZBOI ÎN CONTEXTUL CONFLICTELOR SECOLULUI XXI, NECESITĂȚI ȘI TENDINTE PENTRU CREȘTEREA SIGURANȚEI NAȚIONALE ȘI INTERNAȚIONALE

Victoria CHIRILOIU¹

Abstract:

After the battle from 1859, in 1862 Henry Dunant published an account of what he had seen, A Memory of Solferino, who becomes the first call on writing, regarding war victims and its protection. The law from Hague was updating the issues, reiterating the methods and the conduits of war, and the Geneva conventions made clear the law applicable when the guns talk.

Especially into the modern asymmetric war, new character of combatants and victims upraise. The number of combatant women increase, also the number of women victims.

Despite the ancient warfare Code of Honor,² despite de international law regulations, the dignity of women was not considerate legally as human rights issues before the Ruanda genocide.

RAPORTUL DINTRE RESPONSABILITATE ȘI RĂSPUNDERE JURIDICĂ

Irina Loredana (STĂNCULESCU) VOICU¹

Abstract:

The concept of moral responsibility was claimed and is more common in everyday life as corporate social responsibility, but the science of law has taken the creative features of this concept, adapting it to the specific object of his research. At some point we may equate these two expressions, yet the responsibility is or should be a pre-existing liability applies especially true when referring to the law as liability in the legal sense is a consequence resulting from the failure or improper performance of a legal obligation. Responsibility is not the same legal responsibility for the latter, is a legally imposed from outside the individual, while personal responsibility is the act that makes the individual against his own conscience, in relation to the norms and values of society.

Keywords: responsibility, liability, report, society, concepts

CONSIDERAȚII ASUPRA INSTITUȚIEI CAMEREI PRELIMINARE, ÎN LUMINA NOULUI COD DE PROCEDURĂ PENALĂ

Cătălin MARIN¹

Abstract:

According to the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure of 1968, a typical structure of the criminal proceedings included three phases: criminal prosecution, judgment and enforcement of final criminal decision; each such phase was delimited by certain proceedings-related acts and, within each of these phases, certain categories of judicial bodies exercised their duties.

Upon the coming into force of the New Code of Criminal Procedure, the criminal proceedings, along with the criminal prosecution, judgment and enforcement of the criminal decision, include a new phase, namely the preliminary chamber. The purpose of the procedure in the preliminary chamber is to verify, after the indictment, the competence and legality of seizing the court, as well as to verify the legality of evidence gathered and the procedural acts undertaken by the criminal prosecution bodies.

Key words: proceedings phases, preliminary chamber, preliminary chamber judge.

VARIETĂȚI ALE DONAIEI ÎN DREPTUL ROMAN PRELuate ÎN CODUL CIVIL DIN 1865 ȘI ÎN NOUL COD CIVIL

Codrin CODREA¹

Abstract:

Besides the regular donation, the civil law recognizes the donation between spouses, the stipulation for another and the remission of debt as varieties of donation. In the Ancient and in the Classical Roman Law the donation didn't have a specific form, and the agreement of the parties wasn't enough for a valid transfer of property. Until the Post-classical Roman Law, when the convention of donation is recognized, the donation had to be made through a modus, the transfer of property with a gratuitous title being done only through one of the derived conventional means of acquiring property, mancipatio, in jure cessio or traditio, or through certain solemn contracts such as sponsio or stipulatio.

Keywords: donation, Roman law, stipulation for another, donation between spouses, remission of debt.

INCURSIUNE ÎN STUDIUL DREPTURILOR INERENTE FIINȚEI UMANE ȘI RESPECTUL DATORAT ACESTEIA¹

Valeria GHEORGHIU²

Abstract:

Mankind has become a human right and everything was looking good in law: the desire to live in the right to life, the desire to work in the right to work, rest in law desire to rest, desire picture in right of personal portrayal, a desire to publish a book entitled to publish a book, the desire for friendship in the friendship, the desire for education in the right to education. It seems, however, that a right is not really than when it is threatened. Many of our desires are, in turn, rights of personality. But the single life takes on the character of originality and is therefore a central element of personality.

ANALIZĂ SUCCINTĂ A DISPOZIȚIILOR LEGALE PRIVIND RĂSPUNDEREA DISCIPLINARĂ A FUNCȚIONARILOR PUBLICI

Andra PURAN*

Abstract:

Disciplinary liability of civil servants, as form of judicial liability, has started a series of debates among Romanian doctrinaires. This paper aims to analyze the general aspects regarding disciplinary liability of civil servants subjected to Law No 188/1999, starting from the analysis of the concept of civil servant. The disciplinary misconduct, the specific sanctions, the procedure of administrative investigation prior to the application of a disciplinary sanction for the civil servant have their origin in disciplinary liability stated by the Labor Code, but has some additional valences, by a detailed regulation, according to the administrative law.

Keywords: civil servant, disciplinary misconduct, sanction, disciplinary liability, prior research.

ABUZ DE POZIȚIE DOMINANTĂ –STUDIUL DE CAZ MICROSOFT

Maierean LAURA¹

Abstract:

Competition policy is an important part of economic and industrial policy becomes increasingly prominent as the domestic blank. The abuse of a dominant position is a manifestation of anticompetitive practices, along with agreements, decisions and concerted practices. A company that has a monopoly on the market of a product will have a high degree of autonomy in terms of prices. As the number of competitors increases, there is a weakening of the autonomy.

Keywords: competition policy, abuse of dominant position, anticompetitive practices, Microsoft.

ACORDAREA AJUTORULUI DE MINIMIS

PROTECȚIA DATELOR CU CARACTER PERSONAL – COMPONENTĂ ESENȚIALĂ A DREPTULUI ORICĂRUI CETĂȚEAN LA VIAȚĂ PRIVATĂ

Ancuta OPRE¹

Abstract:

The Romanian Constitution stipulates that one of the fundamental rights of the Romanian citizens is the right to have their intimacy, private and family life protected by the public authorities. As it has many components, this right is ensured not only by the 26th article of the fundamental law, but a lot of other laws have been passed and institutions have been established in order for this right to be fully protected. One of these institutions is the National Supervisory Authority for Personal Data Processing, which monitor and control all personal data processing in Romania, an essential component of the fundamental right of all the citizens to enjoy a private life.

Abstract:

The Romanian Constitution stipulates that one of the fundamental rights of the Romanian citizens is the right to have their intimacy, private and family life protected by the public authorities. As it has many components, this right is ensured not only by the 26th article of the fundamental law, but a lot of other laws have been passed and institutions have been established in order for this right to be fully protected. One of these institutions is the National Supervisory Authority for Personal Data Processing, which monitor and control all personal data processing in Romania, an essential component of the fundamental right of all the citizens to enjoy a private life.
